Labor Day Recess Finds Major East-West Issues Not Solved

GREAT BRITAIN ASSAULTS RUSSIA

By GEORGE DURNO
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 31.—The United Nations Security Council was in Labor Day recess today with major issues unsolved and the major rift between the western powers and Soviet Russia's sphere of influence more and more apparent.

The council adjourned until next Tuesday after Great Britain had accused the Russians of deliberately undertaking to destroy the prestige of the United Nations and Moscow's spokesman had envisaged another world war unless Greece is stopped from stirring up trouble with Soviet satellites in the Balkans.

Teacher Supply Seems Adequate Says Superintendent Dr. F. L. Burton

ENROLLMENT TO BE NEAR 8,000

New Castle public schools will open for the fall and winter term Wednesday, September 4. Superintendent Frank L. Burton announced today and some 7800 students and about 250 teachers will terminate their three-month vacation.

The indications are for about the same number of new students this year as were entered last year. Dr. Burton said, about 450. For some reason, not entirely clear, the entries last year were not quite up to the number indicated by the pre-school children survey and this may occur again this year.

Teacher Supply Adequate

As of today, Dr. Burton said, the teacher supply appeared to be adequate. There will be a few vacancies but for the most part the teaching posts are filled, and where vacancies occur, capable substitutes will be in reserve.

During the summer, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds S. G. Ligo and his janitorial force have been making some improvements, doing a lot of cleaning and painting and the buildings are ready for the students and teachers.

State Police Prepare For Heavy Traffic

With some care of war days gone and people anxious to go for a several days out, state police anticipate there will be heavy traffic on all improved and secondary highways in this county tonight, Sunday and Labor day. All available state police will be on duty, the officer-in-charge of the local substitution announced today.

While VJ day came a year ago, people were not yet in a frame of mind for their out last Labor day.

Many of their sons and daughters yet were in war zones. Automobiles, too, were not so numerous as they are today, and while travel was heavy, it was not nearly so heavy as state police expect it will be during this week-end and Labor day.

People will be riding to lakes, amusement resorts, streams and to relatives' homes in rural districts to spend tonight, Sunday and Labor day, hence the officer-in-charge believed, he stated. All drivers should obey state highway motor laws. Failure to do so may cause an accident with resultant grief.

The officer-in-charge said that state police will be on all highways day and night and ready at all times, to give aid to motorists. However, the state police expect motorists, in turn, will be courteous to the officer by obeying the law and operating his car in such a way that he neither endangers his own life nor that of other people.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Today concludes an August that probably has set a new record for cool weather for this ordinarily hot month of the summer. On many mornings of this month temperature was recorded down in the 40's and there was no real hot weather during the entire month.

Harry Murphy of Hillsville reported to Pa News this morning that he saw an unusual sight while he was en route to work around 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning. He was traversing the Hillsville-Mt. Jackson road, when he discovered a pair of bear cubs leisurely crossing the highway. The cubs, according to Mr. Murphy were of a cinnamon color.

Riots Occur In Rio De Janeiro On Food Prices

By RICHARD DYER

(T. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 31—Cavalry and special police units charged thousands of "anti-inflation" rioters in the streets of the Brazilian capital today in an unsuccessful attempt to check a continuing demonstration against rising prices.

As many as a thousand persons are believed to have been injured, and officials termed the situation "extremely uncertain." Property damage—including smashed storefronts and windows—is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Army and police authorities have placed all units in Rio's federal district on an emergency alert basis.

Riots Start

The riots started in downtown Rio when members of the National Students Union swarmed through smart streets to the ultra-swank Copacabana and Flamengo Beach sections.

Tear gas attacks by police failed to halt wholesale distribution of windows and doors of restaurants, stores and theaters.

Spokesmen for the students said the rioting "snowballed" after a minor demonstration called to protest the death of one union member who was poisoned by a candy bar.

They said high prices on food "and everything else" forced students to subsist on candy instead of "more wholesome food."

Government leaders blamed lack of earlier and more forceful police action for the heavy damage, but ordered the release of the few student leaders who were jailed.

Informants quarters believe this step indicates the government favors the demonstrations as one way of combating an inflation which has trebled prices in three years.

Brazil has no effective price controls on consumer goods, and prices are rising steadily at approximately 10 per cent a month.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY

familiar ones will be absent, due to retirement. This year will see the advent of the new basketball coach for senior high school, William Douglass, but on the football field Phil H. Brindenbaugh will be at the helm for the twenty-fifth season.

Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock the summer vacation officially ends and the nine-month trek towards a higher education begins.

The teachers will actually start a day ahead of the students. A meeting of all teachers, principals and supervisors will be held in the senior high school Tuesday morning, September 3, at 10 o'clock. Following the general meeting the teachers will meet with the various principals and the work of the opening day planned.

COMMISSION AT PEACE CONFERENCE TO TACKLE ISSUE

Dominions led the fight against France's claims to the Franco-Italian border areas. Although fifteen nations voted for the award, India, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Canada abstained.

Earlier, delegates of the eastern bloc accused delegates of "small group" at the peace conference of seeking to seize oil rights in Romania.

Soviet delegates to the military commission rapped a South African suggestion that Yugoslavia might create incidents if Italy is not permitted to erect frontier defenses. A Russian spokesman said:

"France and Yugoslavia for a century have demonstrated their desire for peace and friendly relations, but Italy has not yet done so."

Interest Small Group

A spokesman for Bycio-Russia, backed by Czechoslovakia, told the economic commission on the Balkans it would be "unfair" for Romania to deliver her to foreign producers who would dictate terms.

Mr. Truman was getting a real taste of the discomforts of seafaring. The Williamsburg and its escort vessel, the USS Weiss, rolled and pitched so badly that it was difficult for passengers to remain secure in their bunks and on deck.

A number of members of the escorting press suffered bruises as a result of falls on wind-whipped decks but no casualties were reported from the Williamsburg.

Breakfast aboard both vessels was a problem, with dishes and food crashing to the wardroom deck.

Both ships were battered down against drenching and continuous downpour and officers estimated that they were rolling between 25 and 35 degrees in the heavy swells.

The President apparently was unable to sleep for during the night when the Williamsburg encountered a violent squall area lights were seen to flash on in the Chief Executive's quarters and they remained on for a good part of the night.

U. N. COUNCIL IN RECESS UNTIL NEXT TUESDAY

another session of ineffectual but bitter wrangling were a series of grave charges against Greece submitted by the Soviet Ukraine and sponsored by Premier Stalin's delegation, and a Russian demand that all United Nations members report within two weeks the strength and locations of their armed garrisons in other than ex-enemy countries.

Although Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko failed to get Ukrainian Foreign Minister D. Z. Manuilsky to accept the council's resolution to elaborate on charges that Greece was fomenting war in the Balkans and that British influences were attempting to install a monarchial government in tomorrow's Greek elections, he achieved his main purpose.

Rips Into Great Britain

The American Automobile Association reported that with most of the cars on the road seven years old or more, comparatively few long auto trips were being made. But an AAA official added:

"Everybody who has a jalopy is heading for some nearby beach or mountain resort of picnic ground or family reunion in the country."

Grinn Note Of Warning

The national safety council gave a grim note to the nation's holiday picture when it predicted that based on previous results of mass holidays, 350 persons would be killed in accidents during the three-day weekend. The council estimated that 210 persons would die in motor vehicle accidents and 140 in such mishaps as drownings and recreational accidents.

The overall travel scene had changed in appearance since last Labor Day. No longer did the uniforms of Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Waves and Wacs predominate in the bustling throngs.

At a fraction of their wartime strength, the armed forces were a negligible factor in the holiday crowds but hundreds of thousands of ex-GIs happily wearing civilian raiment swelled the flood.

Monday, as was customary in the years before the war when Labor Day marked the return not only of weekenders out of summer-long vacationists, is expected to set a travel record for the year.

Railroads said they were placing every available item of passenger-carrying rolling stock in service and hoped that no one would be stranded. But this they couldn't guarantee.

In many cities old-fashioned Labor Day celebrations will be held marked by parades, speeches and picnics.

MACHINE NEARLY DISROBES WOMAN

NORWALK, O., Aug. 31—(INS)—A corn kernel removing machine in a Norwalk cannery has all the symptoms of a mechanical "wolf."

A nearby Fairfield woman who operates the machine can testify to this. Her clothing became entangled in the machine and she was completely disrobed before her fellow workers could extricate her from the mechanical hands.

One sympathetic workman loaned the woman his coat and another found a blanket for her. Besides embarrassment, she also suffered minor injuries.

The cannery operators are hoping that hereafter that particular machine will concentrate on the job at hand—removing the kernels from corn.

America Relaxes

Despite New Crisis

CATAUMET, Mass., Aug. 31.—In spite of the latest crisis, blazoned in black headlines in the newspapers and proclaimed on the radio regularly on the half hour, America is relaxing in this first summer of the peace. Relaxing, you might say with a vengeance.

There is a kind of urgency about it. If this is to be only a brief interlude of peace—and that gloomy foreboding sometimes bears down heavily—then we are determined to squeeze the last drop of goodness from it.

The winding roads, here on Cape Cod, are lined with cars. The public beaches are crowded. The "no vacancies" sign hangs out, as in every other resort area throughout the country. To care for those who were disappointed during the summer, many hotels will remain open through September and October.

But for those who seek it, there is peace and quiet. We look out through the pines to the stretch of sand and the blue water of our small arm of the bay. Our sailboat heads out toward the channel, moving stiffly in the swift breeze. This peace may be deceptive, but if it is, we cannot help for a time welcoming the deception.

Far From the Cauldrons of Europe

"Earth could be fair." That is the phrase which recurs again and again. Sitting on the shore of this playground that projects out into the Atlantic, you think of the long sweep of the American earth. The far-bordered lakes of Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Rockies and the great parks where thousands upon thousands of tourists get at least a glimpse of splendor. Then, across the Divide to the Pacific slope and all its wonders. Here are Americans by the million, playing, relaxing.

It seems so far from the cauldrons of Europe, where hate and jealousy burn more fiercely than ever. Although we learned painfully that it is just next door, Trieste seems a million miles from Cape Cod. What is it that has made the difference? Is it our space and our natural wealth? Is it the fact that we could make more or less a clean start, breaking with the old nationalist rivalries? Is it, as our isolationists like to tell us, merely the fact of our physical isolation?

"Earth could be fair." I think back to a few days spent last year in Yugoslavia. Again and again people came up to me on the street and in restaurants, looking around cautiously first, then speaking in an undertone to ask if there wasn't some way they could come to America. For the old, it was a last desperate prayer. For the young, it was a distant gleam of hope; they wanted to know if they couldn't join our army and thereby qualify themselves for citizenship.

This was in the Yugoslavia of swaggering Marshal Tito. It was in the Yugoslavia where even then a pan-Slavic imperialism was being fanned by an unceasing propaganda bellow. But if you tried to write about pan-Slavism, the censor blue-penciled it. Tito was not yet ready to show his hand.

Yugoslavians Want Peace and Food

I don't think most of the unhappy people in Yugoslavia were in the least interested in pan-Slavism. They wanted peace and a little more to eat. They wanted to be free of fear for a time. But it is wonderful what the propaganda bellow can do with a people who are hungry, confused, frustrated.

An incident out of that brief visit comes back. One of Tito's young hotheads, wife of a cabinet minister, suddenly turned to me and said: "Don't you love your country?" To an American that seemed a foolish question. Of course we love our country, I told her. "Why don't you talk about it, then?" she demanded.

Across the bay here, on the reefs that are out of water at low tide, people are clamping. The notices posted along the shore say that clamping is allowed on this one day only. It is signed by the selection.

Well, perhaps we do take our country too much for granted. It has always been here, rich and proud and beautiful—if at times a little foolish and confused. Nevertheless, that seems infinitely preferable to the disease of nationalism, the terrible pathology of hate that is once again being fanned into flame.

If you look up quickly, you can see those flames—there, just across the line of the dunes. They intrude on the peaceful landscape even in this summer when America would like to look the other way.

LAKE HURON SUNSET

Sunset on Lake Huron is a glorious sight to see.

The waves seem robed in purple; goldleaf on every tree.

The day slips out so softly, as on tiptoe it must tread.

Lest it wake some baby angel that is sleeping overhead.

We stand in adoration on a tall and rocky ledge.

As the sun slips down in splendor at the water's distant edge.

And if ever we have doubted that the Lord is good to men,

The majesty of evening brings us back to Him again.

I have said it to the children and I've said it to my friends:

"Tis too bad the room is crowded when man's earthly journey ends.

Could I have but one wish granted when I reach my final day—

With a touch of sunset glory I should like to slip away."

Doubt Value Of Costly New Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—THE new Economic Advisory Council, created by the foolish Full Employment Act, sponsored by Mr. Wallace and the CIO and sold to President Truman as embodying a "Roosevelt policy" to which he was committed, has been hailed by the true liberals as a "significant step forward."

PRINCIPAL commendation from the conservative side was due to the selection of Dr. Edwin G. Nourse of the Brookings Institution as chairman. The other two members—Mr. Leon Keyserling and Mr. John Davidson Clark—aroused no great enthusiasm, even in left-wing circles. But, Dr. Nourse is concededly a well-balanced, well-educated economist who has never been weaned from his basic belief in the multiplication table.

NEVERTHELESS, though it is a highly compensated board—as government boards go—the chairman getting $17,000 a year and the other members $15,000 each, there is a great deal of skepticism as to its usefulness and value. Without reflecting upon the character or capacity of Dr. Nourse and his colleagues, the contention among the better-informed men having to do with Federal finance is that it is hardly conceivable that this new board can contribute anything of great worth in the way of a solution of our very great fiscal difficulties.

AN indication of this feeling among economists is that President Truman asked some 30-odd men to serve as members and received about that number of declinations.

The board's job is to serve as a sort of economic crystal gazer for the President, forecasting economic conditions from a year to a year and a half ahead, and advising how to meet them. Further, it is supposed to consider unemployment and depression causes and to advise the President how best to strengthen the Federal financial structure—and in other ways.

BUT the President does not have to take the board's advice—not at all. It is purely an executive agency and is empowered only to study and make recommendations. This sounds well, but it does not mean much because its recommendations can be ignored entirely by Mr. Truman, just as his late predecessor, Mr. Roosevelt, after asking for it, used to ignore the sound economic advice of Mr. E. M. Baruch and others with whom he consulted. The Nourse board does not report to Congress, which next year under its contemplated reorganization should be better informed financially than ever before, and is to have a legislative budget that, in theory, will be scientifically devised.

THE washing off part of that statement appeals to me most.

As far as I am concerned, the sooner any perfume is washed off the better.

Maybe I'm getting old.

Vacation Period Ends For Pastors

New Castle Pastors Will Return To Regular Pulpits Sunday Morning

Worshippers in the churches of the city and county, who have been listening to visiting ministers or former pastors for the past month or six weeks, will have opportunity to listen to their own pastor Sunday morning, as almost, without exception, every vacationing minister has returned to the city much refreshed after a few weeks stay at the shore or some mountain resort.

Vacation season for most pastors of the city officially got under way the middle of July, with the pastors taking from two to four weeks for their annual rest away from their ministerial duties.

With the return of the ministers to their pulpits on Sunday means the beginning of a busy fall and winter season for many of the churches, when special campaigns will get under way and other activities which normally are suspended for the summer months are resumed.

Numerous conventions are being planned for the fall when visiting delegations will come to the city, keeping many of the city pastors busy on committees of arrangement and housing.

Dr. Edwin G. Sloan Will Preach Sunday

Announcement is made that Dr. Edwin G. Sloan will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday, Sept. 1, at the 11 o'clock service.

Dr. Sloan formerly preached at Monaca, where he enjoyed a successful pastorate of three years. He resigned that charge to serve as a chaplain in the Navy during the war. Dr. Sloan was recently released from service and is now residing near Sharon.

Pepper urged that the United States and Britain on one side and the Soviets on the other "back up and start over" in their postwar adjustments.

Youth Will Invade City On Labor Day For District Rally

Alex Gurgacz, driving while intoxicated. Fined $100 and costs and thirty days in the county jail. Out in three if the fine and costs are paid.

Edward L. Fendrick, morals charge. A six months jail sentence is suspended if he makes a payment of $10 per month for the care of two children.

PRICE MAY GO UP

Like the cost of shoes and ships and sealing wax, the price of driving while intoxicated may soon see an increase and this without benefit of the O.P.A.

In court Friday morning Judge W. Walter Braham said that it began to appear as if the standard "133" sentence for drunken drivers isn't proving efficacious. The "133" means $100 and costs, thirty days in the county jail, out in three if the fine and costs are paid.

There are exceptions to the rule, the usual sentence is old "133" for first offenders. Where property damage is done it is required that the damages be paid. Lately the list of drunken drivers has been increasing and the court feels a little upping in the price would help.

The present fine is a long way from ceiling.

STRIKES

Washington Women Amazed At French Dressmakers Efforts

By PEGGY McEVY

(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Aug. 31.—(INS)—It occurred to me that what I lacked in this whole business of covering fashions in Paris was a brain trust.

Then I remembered that Secretary of State Byrnes' two top brain-trusters, Senators Vandenberg and Connally, had just arrived with their wives.

What's good for Mr. Byrnes is certainly good for me. So I called Hazel Vandenberg and asked her if she and Mrs. Connally would help me cover the Schiaparelli collection.

"Beside," I pointed out, "you're an old newspaper gal yourself. It will just keep your hand in."

Mrs. Vandenberg was Hazel Whitaker on the Chicago Tribune once — top feature writer and women's editor, who could ask for more?

When we arrived at Schiaparelli's Mrs. Byrnes and Mrs. Jefferson Caffery, charming wife of our American ambassador in Paris, were already on hand.

And to boot, Mrs. David Finley, whose husband heads the Mellon art gallery in Washington, was there. Here's a lady who not only knows what she likes—but knows art.

Air Commuters

Schiaparelli designed this whole collection for the girl who has to do a lot of getting around—especially by air. This was right down the alley of the ladies in my brain-trust who spend most of their time commuting from Washington to Paris on the presidential plane Sacred Cow.

The first model made her entrance in an outfit designed for being stranded in Gander (the Newfoundland stopover between Washington and Paris.) It had a big fur-lined topcoat

Numbers Racket Hit Hard Blow

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Michigan state police announce the state's biggest mutual house, a five-million-dollar a year numbers racket operating in three counties, was cracked today.

State police, working with the Detroit police vice squad, report raids have cleared the way for a grand jury investigation of the mutual house.

Police report the break came with the closing of five offices at the Polish Bank mutual house in Detroit.

Policeman Clayton Nowlin who led the squad said 45-year-old Felix Jankowski, the alleged manager of the huge syndicate, and 23 aides were taken into custody.

Detectives seized approximately five thousand dollars in cash, eight automobiles, an estimated 100 thousand in betting slips, three adding machines and a wide assortment of other supplies labeled as "evidence."

The offices of the 15-thousand-dollar-a-day gambling business were closed, police said, after four months of investigation.

All Available

State Police To Be On Highways

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—(INS)—State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm said today all available troopers would patrol state highways to enforce safe driving over the Labor Day period.

He warned pedestrians and drivers that unless extreme caution was observed in traveling, the weekend "may well be an open season for death-dealing traffic accidents".

State Revenue Secretary David W. Harris pointed out that the opening of the 1946-47 school term immediately following the holiday would result in additional heavy motor and pedestrian traffic.

Twenty-nine persons were killed on highways over the Labor Day weekend of 1941, the peak accident year, while only three lives were lost in traffic mishaps during the holiday period last year.

Delay Probe Into Fatal Shooting Of Boy In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Homicide detectives today said that the investigation into the fatal shooting of 12-year-old Michael Garrick will be suspended until Charles Hazlett, Jr. is returned to Pittsburgh.

The 12-year-old Hazlett boy is in police custody at Buffalo pending extradition to Pennsylvania.

Continue Effort To Avert Power Strike

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's threatened power blackout moved toward its strike deadline today as union and company negotiators scheduled a second conference with Mayor David L. Lawrence in an effort to bring about a peaceful settlement.

The city's chief executive indicated that discussions will be held over the Labor Day holiday and hinted night sessions will be held if necessary to ward off the walkout which has threatened the entire Pittsburgh metropolitan area.

Mayor Lawrence said that all possible pressure will be exerted to obtain a settlement, adding that he would insist on no cessation of power and light service as "strongly as possible for me to do so."

The convention will officially get underway this afternoon.

Plaingrove Woman Tells Of Trip To Western States

Mrs. Lucy Wallace Describes Trip

Taken To Hollywood, Calif., To Visit Sister

Among the county women who have taken advantage of a long awaited post-war vacation is Mrs. Lucy Wallace, resident of Plaingrove, who wrote to The News of an extended trip that she and family took to the west coast and return. Mrs. Wallace wrote en route to the city as the party was traveling through St. Louis, Mo.

The group left this county by auto Monday morning, Aug. 12, and drove to Pittsburgh, where they picked up several of their relatives before proceeding on their western trip.

The first 24-hour drive consisted of 900 miles travel before a little motor difficulty overtook the vacationers.

The trip from that point to Albuquerque, N. M., was uneventful as they drove along in their 1937 automobile through the high mountains and quiet Indian villages. In spite of the 10 degrees of heat, the women wore long velvet skirts and headgear.

The travelers arrived at Hollywood, Calif., on Saturday morning, Aug. 17, and were the guests of Mrs. Wallace's sister, Mrs. Harriet Dayenport, who has a palatial home of 16 rooms. They later visited her ocean home, also of 16 rooms, with shower baths in many of the rooms for the convenience of guests.

On one evening they were entertained by a niece of Mrs. Wallace, Miss Dorothy Hoffman, where they were entertained by several star musical entertainers. Miss Hoffman, formerly of Niles, O., is a photographer.

Mrs. Wallace stated that some of the mountains over which they passed were over 8,000 feet high.

In her letter she stated that she expected to be home by the end of this week.

Congressmen Are Critical Of Red Action

House Committee Members Now In Tokyo, Critical Of Russia's Activities

TOKYO, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Members of the House Military Affairs committee, now in Tokyo, levelled sharp criticism today at Russia's activities and urged maintenance of a strong, mobile U. S. striking force in the Far East.

The six-man group, on an inspection tour of American Pacific bases, voiced these views after hearing an off-the-record report by top deputies of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff.

The secret report, covering the Far Eastern military and political situation, so startled the congressmen that they decided to revise their itinerary to permit a visit to the United States occupation zone in South Korea. North Korea is occupied by Russia's Red army.

Rep. John E. Sheridan (D) Pa., acting committee chairman, advocated an armed force sufficient to maintain a million dollars worth of surplus Pacific war material in readiness. He urged a striking force "more mobile" than the U. S. Army was on V-J Day.

He said this force should be built around long-range, supersonic bombers based within striking distance of the Asiatic mainland.

Sheridan refused to divulge the information given the committee men but commented:

"After what I've heard I would not even give the Russians an index to the atomic bomb."

Rep. Dewey Short (R) Mo. flatly accused Russia of attempting to undermine United States authority in Japan with a view of forcing American control out of the Far Pacific areas. Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes (D) Fla. concurred in view.

Short remarked:

"There is imminent danger of another Pearl Harbor in Korea, Triangle and Alaska."

"We cannot afford to take any chances, while we, traditionally, are no aggressors we cannot afford the risk of being caught unprepared anywhere again."

Sikes declared:

"Russia is maintaining about five times the number of occupation troops—mostly in Korea—than we have. This is neither necessary nor reasonable."

Sikes said a complete Japanese army from Manchuria, comprising some 750,000 men, disappeared into Soviet Siberia. The Florida congressman said he was forced to believe these soldiers would be used as slave labor. But other members of the committee ventured the opinion that these Japs may still be armed.

John Jacob Astor III Now In Predicament

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—(INS)—John Jacob Astor, III, wealthy scion of the great New York railroad family, found himself in somewhat of a predicament today.

He's married and has denied rumors of an impending divorce, yet a pretty Wynnewood, Pa., blonde claims she is jilting him in favor of a 33-year-old school teacher lacking the Astor name and fortune.

The Wynnewood beauty is Virginia Jacobs, 18. Her mother, Mrs. Joseph Jacobs, said that Astor, who is 34, wanted to marry Virginia when she was only 15.

Caught Astor's Eye

Attractive Virginia, her mother said, caught Astor's eye during a summer vacation spent at Bay Head, N. J., three years ago.

Mrs. Jacobs said she opposed the marriage then because Virginia was "too young for Astor" and Astor was "too old for Virginia."

But she contended, Astor has continued to exhibit a romantic interest in Virginia despite his later marriage to Gertrude Gretsch.

"I now feel certain that she is not going to marry Astor," Mrs. Jacobs said. "She liked him a lot, but she changed her mind about a year ago."

Since then, Mrs. Jacobs added, her daughter's principal "heartthrob" has been the unidentified school teacher.

Made "Mistake"

Two weeks after his marriage to Miss Gretsch, she declared, Astor had made a "mistake" and asked her to wait for him.

Mrs. Jacobs claimed that as recently as Thursday Astor telephoned Virginia. On several occasions, she added, he has offered her daughter expensive gifts, including a diamond wrist watch last Christmas which was refused because it was "too expensive."

Astor's last visit to the Jacobs home was in July, Mrs. Jacobs said. She claimed that Astor called Virginia when he heard of her new suitor and asked her to call it off.

"I can't live without her," she quoted Astor as saying. "I'll die if she marries this other fellow."

Labor Government May Modify Program

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Highly authoritative peace conference circles predicted today that the British Labor government may soon modify its nationalization program by dropping some of its most radical socialistic schemes.

Plans for drastic changes in the labor government's policy were said to be prompted primarily by deterioration of the international situation, particularly in relations between the east and west.

The same sources said the new British approach may involve important changes in the labor cabinet in the near future. As always in times of danger, the British are preparing to strengthen internal unity.

Plans for the socialization of Britain have been known to be based on the anticipation that the world would enjoy lasting peace after the defeat of the Axis powers.

Labor leaders are said to recognize that the socialist program could succeed only if Britain were able to devote its energies to domestic affairs, not divert those energies to military preparedness in the possibility of another major war.

British leadership was said to be beginning to think in terms of preparing for the possible danger of another war, not because it believes war is imminent but because of a fear that it may eventually be inevitable if relations between Russia and the west continue to worsen.

It was pointed out that internal rifts over the labor government's attempt to impose socialism on England is generally held to be responsible for slowing down the country's recovery, especially the development of the vital export trade.

There is now said to be general recognition among Britain's two major parties of the importance of cooperating to strengthen the nation in the face of possible dangers confronting the world.

It was said this new cooperation will be felt not only through the curtailment of some of the more radical socialistic experiments at home, but externally through a stiffening of British foreign policy, particularly in respect to Egypt and Palestine.

The government re-shuffling, expected within the next three or four weeks, may involve influential members of the cabinet as well as junior ministers.

Most important minister slated to be involved in the proposed changes is A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty and deputy leader of the British delegation to the peace conference.

It is rumored Alexander may take over the Board of Trade or go into the House of Lords.

Sir Stafford Cripps, presently Board of Trade head, is being mentioned as secretary of state for India, replacing Lord Pethick-Lawrence, who is understood to have expressed a desire to retire.

Hector McNeil was said to be definitely in line for promotion to minister of state, the foreign office post now held by Noel-Baker.

These contemplated changes—and there are many more—are signs of the current troubled state of the world's affairs.

Youth's 'PW' Joke Rebounds On Him

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—(INS)—From now on, cops are okay—so far as 16-year-old Joseph Boyle is concerned.

The youth thought it would be a good joke if he were to dress himself up like a prisoner of war.

So he strolled about Philadelphia streets in a denim suit with PW printed in white paint on the back of the coat and the flat of the trousers.

Alert citizens reported him to police and before he knew what was happening to him young Boyle was rushed to headquarters.

He was having a hard time explaining that he wasn't a PW—not really—and that he was only kidding when in walked Patrolman William O'Brien.

And O'Brien saved the day for young Boyle by identifying him as his neighbor. They let red-headed Joe go after that—but there's still some skepticism about the PW suit.

Joe says he got it while vacationing on Long Island near an army internment camp.

With teachers for all of the classes and with the school buildings in "better shape for the opening of school than they ever have been", the 8,000 school children of New Castle will put on their new shoes and sharpen their pencils next week—because Wednesday is the first day of school.

In spite of the reluctance with which most of the kids return to the classroom, there is something they enjoy about the first days of school. It's fun to get the whole gang together again after a summer of bumbling around, seeing a few kids here and a few more somewhere else. There are new plaid skirts and new long trousers; football schedules; the first school dance of the year; coked with the crowd after school; and cops-and-robbers games for the younger kids, of course!

On the way home.

War Trials Of 22 Former Nazis Finally Ended

Verdicts Will Be Announced
On September 21 It Is Anticipated

By GEORGE MARTIN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Aug. 31.—The war crimes trial of 22 former Nazi leaders and six Nazi organizations closed today after permitting the accused their final day to plead their defenses in court.

After the noon recess, counsel for several defendants made last-minute efforts to save their clients, asking permission to submit written evidence. This request was accepted by the court for consideration.

The trial opened last Nov. 20 and held 401 sessions. Informed sources said the judges expect to announce their verdicts Sept. 21.

Goering On Stand

Former Luftwaffe Chief Hermann Goering, in a grey suit that hung limply from his diminishing bulk, took the stand to deny he ordered downed Allied airmen to be killed. He repudiated some of his own wartime statements with the explanation that he was excited at the time.

Goering said Germany was free to requisition money, machinery and valuables in occupied countries because it was no more than the Allied powers are doing now in the Reich.

The former Reichsmarshall concluded with the declaration that he refused to be considered a criminal "as my actions were dictated by love for my country."

Rudolf Hess, one-time deputy führer who flew to Britain just before Hitler's invasion of Russia, asked permission to remain seated during his final statement. He said he was sick.

Incoherent Speech

Then Hess launched a long, incoherent speech in which he charged that witnesses at the trial were poisoned and that his lawyers were incorrect the way they handled his defense.

Hess first called Hitler a cruel lunatic and then said he was Germany's greatest son for the past thousand years.

After 20 minutes, the court asked Hess to conclude his rambling address.

Former Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop declared he was being held responsible for Hitler's foreign policy. He repeated the Nazi line aimed at dividing the Allies by expressing a hope Britain and the U. S. will be more successful in their opposition to Russia than Germany was.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, former chief of the German high command, said he believed his guilt lay in not preventing the war. He said he hoped Germans would recognize the horrors of war and find new hope in "a family of peoples."

Former Reichsbank President Hjalmar Schacht said he always opposed war and favored assistance to the Jews. He added that he made some political mistakes, but he thought himself still a good economist. Schacht declared his hate for Hitler was known throughout the world.

Julius Streicher, the anti-Jewish publisher, said only Hitler was guilty of Germany's crimes. As for himself, he claimed he never ordered, asked, or participated in terrorist actions against the Jews.

Wilhelm Frick, former interior minister and a gauleiter in Czechoslovakia, turned refugee to state that he did not know Germany's denial of God would cause such misery. He said the Reich lost the war because of Godlessness.

Frick appealed to Germans to leave the way of Nazism, asserting it was a road to death and annihilation.

September 4. Supervising Principal Turk Stares

All Union township schools will open Wednesday morning, Sept. 4, at nine o'clock, the new supervising principal, J. Arthur Turk, announced today. This includes Union high school, Scotland Lake; Harbor, Linden Grove, Washington and Sunny Avenue schools.

The following new teachers have been added to the teaching staff since the close of school last spring: Miss Dorothy Pander, Mrs. Helen McCommon King, Harry J. Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Shaw, Miss Marjorie Marshall, Randall Park and Mrs. Claire Shields.

A new stoker has been installed in the Union high school building and the walls have all been cleaned and painted. Two large ovens have been added in the domestic science room and improvements have been made in the science laboratory.

And here's a tip to the kids. You better attend school faithfully, because the school board at a recent meeting took action to employ a truant officer, who will have supervision over all schools in the township. If you are not at school, with a good excuse for being absent, the truant officer will be right on your trail.

Bathing Suit Pose Out Declares Beauty Entry

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 31.—An unscheduled tiff between two local redheads threatened today to highlight the 1946 Miss America beauty pageant which opens here next Tuesday.

It all started when a news photographer attempted to get a few pictures of 18-year-old titan-tressed Wilda Georgine Bowman of Chattanooga, who has been named Miss Tennessee for this year.

Declining with a pout, Miss Bowman politely informed the startled board, A. F. Arnold.

"I don't think it's nice. I don't want to pose in a bathing suit even at Atlantic City unless it is a private showing before the beauty judges."

Informed of the latest turn of events, the second redheaded Miss Lenore Slaughter, pageant director, and also southern, stepped into the ring.

She wired Miss Tennessee at her home to explain her statement to the press. Miss Slaughter said:

"She will have to appear in a bathing suit. She had that information from the start."

Wilda, who will sing a classical song as her part of the talent competition, is on record as saying that when she entered the contest she had the understanding that she wouldn't have to pose in a bathing suit.

Beauties are judged by talent, evening gown and bathing suits. There are 25,000 seats in Convention Hall, where the contest is held, and nowhere near that many judges.

Compulsory Military Training Is Doomed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(INS)

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, declared today that continued efforts by the administration for compulsory military training were doomed to failure.

Thomas flatly asserted that the legislation had "no chance" in the 80th congress, which will convene in January.

Administration efforts to obtain the enactment of legislation for universal military training for the nation's youth ran into violent opposition in the present congress and failed even to receive the approval of the necessary committees.

Hope Not Given

However, the administration, especially the war department, has not given up hope of prevailing upon congress to adopt compulsory training. Secretary of War Patterson in a recent speech reiterated the need for such legislation.

Thomas, whose committee must approve the legislation before it can become law, said he had not changed his views and was convinced that an efficient army must be built upon a voluntary basis.

Thomas stated: "You can't build the complex army that the military establishment of today has become by compulsion. That would be the worst way to do it. The whole thing to be successful must be on a voluntary basis."

The senator added that in place of compulsory training, there would be an enlargement of state National Guard units and ROTC units in schools.

Administration plans called for one year of military training for youths aged 18 to 21.

Thomas added that it had not yet been decided whether the army could be reduced beyond its presently planned maximum of 1,070,000 personnel on July 1, 1947. The army's present strength is approximately 1,500,000 men.

It all started when a news photographer attempted to get a few pictures of 18-year-old titan-tressed Wilda Georgine Bowman of Chattanooga, who has been named Miss Tennessee for this year.

Declining with a pout, Miss Bowman politely informed the startled board, A. F. Arnold.

New Husband Of Virginia Bruce Is Charged As AWOL

PORLAND, Ore., Aug. 31.—(INS)

Pvt. All Ipar's honeymoon with movie star Virginia Bruce hit a new air bump today when a United Airlines plane rushing him to Fort Lewis, Wash., where he is charged with being "AWOL" was grounded by fog at Portland.

At last reports, the Turkish-born movie scenario writer from Santa Monica, Cal., was frantically trying to arrange transportation by taxi-cab or chartered airlines bus to Fort Lewis.

Ipar made no comment on his troubles.

Meanwhile, at Fort Lewis, 150 miles away, Ipar's commanding officer, Maj. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, waited the result of four telegrams recalling Ipar to the fort.

These read:

Return Immediately

"Direct you return your organization this station immediately. Confirm delivery this message. Kendall."

Record at Fort Lewis showed the wandering private, a soldier only seven weeks, had been issued the astounding number of three consecutively-dated three-day passes and was due back at the fort Thursday morning.

Ipar, who was married to Miss Bruce in Hollywood Saturday night, wired the general in answer:

"Since I have not received any of your telegraphed orders, and the item in the newspaper was the first indication of such possible action on your part, I would appreciate greatly your confirming the authenticity of the wires by kindly telegraphing me your orders at 949 Las Lomas, Pacific Palisades, at which address I have resided continuously since my marriage."

Col. Agyle of the adjutant general's staff said the message was received shortly before noon by telephone.

Only one teacher was newly elected, she being Mrs. W. Guy McCown, who will teach fifth grade.

School will begin on September 3, according to announcement from the president of the Enon school board, A. F. Arnold.

Administration plans called for one year of military training for youths aged 18 to 21.

Thomas added that it had not yet been decided whether the army could be reduced beyond its presently planned maximum of 1,070,000 personnel on July 1, 1947. The army's present strength is approximately 1,500,000 men.

It all started when a news photographer attempted to get a few pictures of 18-year-old titan-tressed Wilda Georgine Bowman of Chattanooga, who has been named Miss Tennessee for this year.

Declining with a pout, Miss Bowman politely informed the startled board, A. F. Arnold.

"I don't think it's nice. I don't want to pose in a bathing suit even at Atlantic City unless it is a private showing before the beauty judges."

Price Controls May Be Lifted On Some Foods

Secretary Of Agriculture To Issue List Of Commodities
In Short Supply

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today was prepared to issue his first list of agricultural commodities in short supply which may remove price controls from hundreds of food items.

The list was to be made public at 4:30 p.m. (EDT) by the agriculture department. Strict secrecy has been maintained to prevent a "leak" of any information regarding the list.

By law, price ceilings automatically go off any controlled feed or food commodity not certified as in short supply by Anderson.

Any control-free commodity placed on the list immediately becomes eligible to go under price ceilings. The control of such commodities, however, actually must be made by OPA and the price determined by OPA.

The season commences September 18.

New Livestock Ceilings

Anderson's action follows that of the OPA in restoring slaughter controls for the meat industry and setting new price ceilings on livestock and packinghouse meat products.

A further upward revision of meat price ceilings was predicted as the result of OPA's announcement that meat wholesalers would be permitted to increase their percentage markups over cost 25 cents per hundred pounds above the June 30 level.

The new livestock price ceilings and the slaughter controls go into effect at midnight. They include on hogs and $2.25 on cattle.

Neither OPA nor agriculture officials would give any advance inkling as to what commodities would be on the list announced by Anderson. One high agriculture official said that "less than a hundred" commodities would be listed.

Some Controls To Go

There was a possibility that controls would be lifted tomorrow on a long list of food items, but indications were that the vast majority would be of minor consumer importance.

The new price control act provides that the secretary of agriculture shall rule on the first of each month what food or feed commodities and their products are in short supply.

Therefore, any action resulting from today's list will not become effective until tomorrow—September 1. Anderson will issue his next list of commodities in short supply on October 1.

One important aspect of Anderson's decision will be his ruling on whether dairy products and grains are in short supply.

If Anderson fails to place dairy products and grains on the list, it will block at least for a month any action to restore ceilings on these commodities.

Decontrol board and agriculture department officials agreed that the new price control act specifically prohibits the control of any food commodity not in short supply.

However, agriculture officials said that Anderson undoubtedly would rule that dairy products are in short supply, thus leaving the way open for recontrol.

These officials also pointed out that if the agriculture secretary fails to certify wheat and other grains in short supply, ceilings automatically will go off flour and bread because they are wheat products.

Anderson could rule, however, that flour and bread are in short supply while grains are not.

The bullion department of the Bank of England is submerged every night under several feet of water.

SOVIET PRESS IN NEW ATTACKS ON UNITED STATES

By NATALIA RENE
O. N. S. Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Aug. 31.—(INS)—The Soviet press and radio opened a new onslaught against United States diplomatic and naval policies today on the eve of the crucial plebiscite in Greece.

Washington was accused infernally of imperialism. American decision to send the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt into Greek waters was attacked sharply.

The Moscow radio and the official government newspaper Izvestia said:

"Greek and other peoples will hardly respect the late president more if he appears before them in the shape of an aircraft carrier—more so since behind the warship stand sponsors of an entirely different policy from Roosevelt's."

A commentator named K. Gofman said that the principle of economic opportunity expounded by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes at the Paris conference "is just a synonym for the 'open door' policy of the United States after the first world war."

He added: "It is the same policy which led to sharpening of imperialist contradictions and speeded up preparations for the second world war."

CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 31.—(INS)—William Rowe, 23-year-old ex-GI from Charleroi, has been harassed by income tax collectors ever since he was discharged from the service in January.

Today he received a $78 check from Uncle Sam—a tax refund.

Battered Dodgers Resume With Eastern Clubs

Bums Battling Giants As Hot Race Continues

Cards At Pittsburgh For Three Games — Lead Brooks By 2 1/2 Games Now

PHLS, BOSOX RACK UP TRIUMPHS

By LES CONKLIN (International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(INS)—The red-hot National league race enters its final phase today with the St. Louis Cardinals taking to the road and the Brooklyn Dodgers back east after another disastrous western trip which saw them sink from first place to a point 2 1/2 games behind the Cards.

St. Louis is in Pittsburgh for three games, while the Dodgers are at the Polo Grounds for the same number of contests with the New York Giants.

Brooklyn statisticians are making much of the fact that the Dodgers will play 20 of their last 30 games at Ebbets field, where the club has won 42 and lost only 15 for a gaudy .737 average.

The flatbush fitter-fibbers conveniently overlook the fact that playing away from home presents no great hazard to the Cardinals, who have won 37 games aboard while losing only 22.

Cards Have Club

Unbiased ball players agree with the flatbush fans to the extent of opining that "the Cardinals have the ball club, but the Dodgers have the schedule."

Perhaps Brooklyn's greatest asset is the unbounded optimism of the Dodger players. Instead of being downhearted, they are as cocky as ever.

The battle cry of the Dodgers is: "Just wait until the Cards come to Brooklyn for three games starting September 12. We'll show 'em."

Brooklyn's tentative pitching plans for the New York series call for Joe Hatten to work against the Giants today with Kirby Higbe and Vic Lombardi pitching in tomorrow's double-header. Lombardi has beaten the Giants nine straight, while Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers rates Higbe his one best bet.

Young Players Desperate

Although the older Brooklyn players are a bit fatigued as a result of playing through the entire western trip without a single day off, the strain is not telling on the younger men, who are in a desperate, hungry mood reminiscent of the original Gas House gang itself.

The American League "aces" reached the silly stage again as the Boston Red Sox increased their lead over the idle New York Yankees to 13 1/2 games. Tex Hughson held the A's to four hits to win the opener 6-0 and Jim Bagby limited them to five blows to cop the nightcap 6-2.

In a night game, the Phillies edged the New York Giants, 4 to 3.

We reminded our friends we had been so busy we sometimes didn't know what time it was. When a fellow's car is down it needs action in a hurry and we've been doing that all summer long. Hence we couldn't answer Mr. McGiverly's question.

Believes Curbs Necessary For Night Baseball

Corum Thinks Washington's Pennant Bid Ruined In '45 By Arc-Light Games

By BILL CORUM (International News Service Sports Writer)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Aug. 31.—Always a night ball enthusiast, because we felt it offered a better show and was something new in a game that could stand something new, we nevertheless hold with those who believe there should be limits set on arc-light play.

Whatever chance the Washington Senators had to win one of the capital's rare championships last year went glimmering, in our opinion, because Clark Griffith had turned his players into owls. And what was sauce for the Old Fox when this column put him in the grease last September remains a source for Sam Breadon and his Cardinals now.

Some insist it's a bad break for the Birds that they must battle through most of the remainder of this seething pennant stretch-run on the road. We don't see it that way.

Great Home Team

We know that the Dodgers are a great home team and are plumb poisonous in Ebbets field, therefore, we also know that winding up there is a break for Durocher and his never-say-die miracle men. The point we are arguing, and are going to prove here, is that it also is a break for the Cards to escape the brilliance of Owner Breadon's electric lights in Sportsman's park.

It was a terrible imposition on the Washington players last fall and it's just as unfair to Eddie Deyer's hard-fighting outfit right now. We know that "Uncle Sam's" excuse is that the National league has ruled out twi-light twin bills and that it is imperative to get these games played. But that still is no legitimate excuse as we see it.

Sportsmanship and the amateur's desire not to win may not come first with all pro ball players. But it does with many of them, and the majority play the game that way. Which is why it has remained our greatest professional sport through all these years.

Ergo, sportsmanship should sometimes come before the box-office even with the Breadons and Griffiths. Or what are often referred to as the smaller club owners. We know their problems are not the same as the MacPhails and Wrigleys and Briggess. Every city can't be Chicago, Detroit, or New York.

Too Many Postpones

What happens is that too many games are postponed in the spring and summer ostensibly because of the weather. But actually because the seat sale is light. Then, sometimes with the championship and the whole goal and purpose of the season's play at stake, they come along and play the season's biggest game in a rainstorm. Or have to crowd two games into one day. And, no doubt, would try three if they could get away with it.

Do you recall that Sunday game in St. Louis on the last day of the season last September, when the Detroit Tigers were forced to swim for their American league pennant? And if Hank Greenberg hadn't shown a powerful breaststroke, after previously having made a bad dive off the third base springboard, they wouldn't have got it.

Why play a schedule of 154 ball games to wind up with the decisive one being held in a swimming pool? And why ask a pennant contender such as the Cards to play night and day and sleep standing up, apparently, just to get a few extra thousand into the stands? Or postpone games to build up doubleheaders that may be rained out entirely?

What I believe the leagues should do first is set a deadline on night ball games. Possibly August 1 would be the best date. And certainly it shouldn't be later than August 15th. Scheduled games I'm talking about now.

Then if weather made it necessary to call off a game of consequence late in the season, the lights could be turned on again as an emergency measure.

For instance, at 10 a. m. in Taylor street, the Optimists' club will conduct an Orange Crate derby which will contain several dozen entries, none yet 16 years of age. Having been paved recently the steep thoroughfare is as slick as ice and good time will be recorded. At 1:30 p. m. At 2:30 p. m. the local revolver club will hold pistol events and after revolver shooting is over, more trapshooting will be rotated. At 5:30 p. m. there'll be a corn roast. Baseball will magnetize diamond sport fans at several plats. The Universals and Lawrence Indies will play at Washington High field. Bessemer will oppose Hillsdale at Hillsdale and Castlewood will meet Portersville in a double-header. The former two games will begin at 3 o'clock. The two bills at Castlewood will get under way at 1:30 p. m. Fishers will vie at both Sylvan Heights and Castle Hills while fishermen will still fish with crabs or minnows in quest of bass.

Nine More Arrests In Alleged Black Markets In Sugar

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—(INS)—OPA agents on Friday filed criminal informations against nine more Pittsburghers for alleged participation in a huge sugar black market operation in 25 Western Pennsylvania counties.

The informations were filed shortly after OPA officials estimated that 10,000 to 15,000 pounds of sugar were being diverted each week into the hands of black marketers.

Chief OPA Enforcement Attorney Lorain L. Lewis identified the defendants in the new complaints as:

Louis Vinocur, treasurer of a Pittsburgh milk company; Ross L. Gammon, Jr.; Milton Schwartz, manager of a supermarket; W. J. Haas, retail grocer; Joe Kendall, truck driver for a soda pop manufacturer; Frank Gutierrez, grocery clerk; Frank Paulo; John Bonacor, milk company truck driver, and Joseph Turquato.

PREDICT INCREASE IN AUTO INDUSTRY OUTPUT OVER JULY

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Ward's automotive reports predicted Friday that August automobile and truck production in United States and Canadian plants may reach 362,765 units, a 9.67 gain over the July volume.

The automotive review forecast the United States' automotive industry will have a new post-war output of 315,000 cars and 115,000 trucks in September. It pointed out, however, that material shortages may curtail production.

The August turnout represents a record figure for postwar production.

Ward's reports that only 73,305 cars and trucks were produced in the United States and Canadian plants this week as compared with 91,360 units turned out last week.

Vets Insurance Now Liberalized

Re-Instatement And Conversion To Peace-Time Policies Has Been Simplified

ADVANTAGES OF CONVERSION SHOWN

Recent liberalization of the provisions of National Service life insurance, the kind all veterans were required to carry while in service, has made this type of policy so attractive that veterans are overlooking a good bet if they pass it up. Worrell M. Jones, Officer in Charge of the U. S. Veterans Bureau Office here stated today.

Changes made in the provisions under which this insurance is issued make it possible for eligible veterans to carry one of six plans, viz: ordinary life, 20-year payment life, 30-year payment life, 20-year endowment, endowment at the age of 60, years and endowment at the age of 65 years.

Pay In Lump Sum

Another feature to which so many veterans objected under the old system was the payment to the beneficiary on the monthly basis plan. This has been liberalized so that payments can be made to the beneficiary in a lump sum, or in monthly payments ranging from 36 monthly payments to 240 monthly payments, in multiples of 12, as the veteran desires.

Another provision is that in the event the veteran becomes totally and permanently disabled, the premium is waived and the insurance continues in effect as before, even though no payments are made.

Provision is also made for total disability income in the event that a veteran becomes disabled and payments are made to him on the basis of $5 per month for each $1,000 of insurance carried, beginning after a period of six months. Payments start on the first day of the seventh consecutive month of such continued disability and continue so long as the insured remains totally disabled. The face of the policy will not be reduced by such payments and at the death of the insured the beneficiary receives the full amount of the policy.

How To Re-Instate

If the service term policy has been permitted to lapse, the veteran can re-instate his insurance by tender of two monthly premiums at the rate which was paid during service, and the presentation of evidence of good health. By this, it is meant that the veteran is in as good health as he was when the policy was permitted to lapse.

It can also be re-instanted and converted to another type of policy at the same time, in as much an amount as the veteran desires, with a minimum amount of $1,000 and in multiples of $500, at the rate paid in service, by paying one month at the rate of the converted policy at his attained age.

Terminal leave bonds will be accepted in payment of insurance. Mr. Jones stated, thus making it easy for the veteran who does not have the ready cash to pay for it with his terminal leave pay.

However, veterans should re-instate and convert their insurance as speedily as possible. Several veterans have died in the past few years, who permitted their insurance to lapse, and their families have been left without any insurance to carry on.

Gen. Drum Says He's Not Seeking Place In Senate

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, head of the New York State Guard, insisted today that he does not seek the Republican nomination for United States senator from New York.

General Drum, returning from a vacation in the Canadian Wilds, said he did not know that his name had been advanced for the nomination—with the supposed backing of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

At the same time, however, the general did not say he would refuse the nomination if it came to him in a floor fight at the GOP state convention in Saratoga Springs next week with Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, former head of the U. S. Office of Strategic Services.

The general added:

"While I appreciate the friendship and desires of those advancing this proposal, I have never aspired to political office. I have not sought and am not seeking this or any other nomination."

IF THE DOCTOR IS NEEDED, BE CONSIDERATE

1. Do not call the doctor at night except in an emergency.
2. Be on time for all appointments.
3. If you must break an appointment, give ample notice.

Hold Eleven On Extortion Charge

Accuse Men Of Attempt To Extort $115,000 From Chicago Tavern Owners

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—(INC)—Eleven men accused of an attempt to extort $115,000 from 300 tavern owners in Chicago's South Side Negrop district were held in jail today and police hunted for three other members of the gang.

The arrests yesterday followed 10 days of extensive police investigation into the affairs of Local 6 of the Chicago Tavern Owners' association.

The general added:

"While I appreciate the friendship and desires of those advancing this proposal, I have never aspired to political office. I have not sought and am not seeking this or any other nomination."

Police officials said the gang "took over" the local through its president, Fred W. Redding, 45, Negro, and planned to "shake down" each of the tavern operators for $50.

The plan was to hold a carnival in an effort to raise funds to finance an anti-dry campaign. But police said the gang really intended to pocket the money without any return.

Police Capt. Thomas Alcock said the gang later planned to assess distilleries $1,000 each and to take over the district's profitable ball bond business.
